What's next for Libre?

Libre – DeFi for Bitcoin and Tether.
Transfer, Swap, Earn Yield.

libre.org

The Fair Launch of LIBRE completed on Jan 14, 2023 00:00 UTC with 55 BTC in 300+ contributions over 30 days.

As a result, there is over $2MM in liquidity for trading BTC / LIBRE and $140k in the BTC / USDT pool. Both of these pools are earning trading fees in-kind Bitcoin, Tether, and Libre coins — they also earn LIBRE farming rewards for staking the LP tokens.

How to Farm

It's a very simple process to add liquidity and farm on Libre Swap.

1. Get some BTC in your Libre account — this is really fast if you use Lightning, but it only supports smaller tx currently.
2. Get some USDT or LIBRE by swapping 1/2 of your BTC.
3. Go to <https://dashboard.libre.org/swap> and click on “liquidity”
4. Add your BTC and it will automatically match the amount of LIBRE or USDT to add.

5. Go to <https://dashboard.libre.org/farming> and click “Update Stake” — slide to 100%, now you can claim daily on this page and unstake any time. There is no lockup.

What's next?

The main goal of the Libre contributors in H1 2023 is to increase TVL and provide DeFi utility funded by the Libre DAO. The first proposals are starting to be voted on now. You can review and vote on them at <https://dashboard.libre.org/dao> — or add your own proposal!

DeFi for Bitcoin and Tether

The new one-line elevator pitch for Libre is “DeFi for Bitcoin and Tether.” These 2 assets represent the majority of all cryptocurrencies by market cap, trading, and transaction volume.

Libre is targeting these 2 coins and truly decentralized trading between them as its core value proposition.

What does that mean in practice and what is the roadmap for 2023?

There is no official roadmap, and this is dependent on the DAO — but these are some of the ideas being floated by the community.

1. Native Libre Bridge for BTC with connectivity to pNetwork.
2. Additional bridges to ETH, EOS, Telos, WAX, Avalanche...
3. Centralized exchange listing for LIBRE
4. Expanding Block Explorer capabilities
5. DeFi leverage and yield contracts
